On January 7, 2022, Eleanor Chase was placed on Facility Wide Outbreak quarantine status as a result of two (2) confirmed positive cases of COVID-19 and per the outbreak status protocols.

Eleanor Chase residents have been under outbreak quarantine over 10 days since their last contact with a COVID-positive (or symptomatic) individual at the house — since January 10, 2022 — and with the negative second round of PCR and RAT test results on all residents reviewed January 23, 2022 — meet criteria for resolution of outbreak.

The facility will return to structured cohort movement, and essential access in the community for employment, programming, and treatment.

Work release is not approved for visitation or social outings due to the very high number of cases still occurring in the community.

It is due to everyone's high regard for wearing a face mask, social distancing and following sanitization procedures that Eleanor Chase can be removed from outbreak status.
