Incarcerated Individual Technology Services (IITS) includes a wide variety of services that benefit incarcerated individuals, their families, and friends. Services such as video visitation and phone calling help incarcerated individuals to stay in touch with family and friends. Entertainment services provide movie rentals, games, and music downloads. Educational programs for incarcerated individuals may also be selected.

By means of this procurement, the agency seeks to provide the highest level of services at the lowest cost to incarcerated individuals, their families, and friends.

Client Services Procurement

The Department of Corrections seeks to acquire these products and services using a client services procurement. There are many benefits to this approach:

- More meaningful involvement from stakeholders. The client services approach allows DOC personnel and external stakeholders to assess portions of bids that are relevant to their areas of expertise.
- Greater flexibility to change requirements with any vendor at any time prior to execution of contract.
- Direct negotiation can occur with any vendor, at any time, regarding any element of the service, prior to signing a contract.

Incarcerated Individuals currently pay 11 cents per minute for domestic phone calls in prison facilities. The Department chose to voluntarily comply with the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) cap of 11 cents, even though the cap was later rescinded. DOC’s commission for intra-state calls is 56 percent. DOC receives no commission for inter-state or international calls.

Fiscal Year 2019:
- There were over 7.1 million phone calls placed by incarcerated individuals in correctional facilities.
- Those calls lasted for a total of 77,530,224 minutes.
- The current vendor charges additional service charges for automated payment fees ($3.00), live agent fees ($5.95), and paper bill/statement fees ($2.00). DOC does not receive a commission on additional service charges.

- Crime Victims Compensation was $1,345,932, or 25 percent, of gross revenue. The Department of Labor and Industries manages those funds.
