

Podcast: Tribal Prayer Transcript

Created by Rachel Friederich, DOC Communications

December 14, 2018

Total Run Time: 0:43

Podcast Transcript: Text Version

Prayer performed in Lummi Tribal Nation dialect by Jaydean Ell, member of the Lummi Tribal Nation.

Translation:

How are you doing today?

I am from the people that are facing each other and my name is Black Star Chief Rising Bull.

My extended family system is the people. The people of the sea. The ones who survived the flood. Thank you.

Thank you for coming into our territory and sharing in this story together.

Creator—hear our hearts sing.

As we come together for these children, thank you, thank you, thank you.

This is a good way to show love, my friends and relatives.